HackerEarth:

The screenshot shows the HackerEarth profile creation interface. At the top, there's a purple decorative banner featuring a shield icon with a lock. Below it, the user's name, "Anurag Kumar", is displayed, along with their location, "gaya, bihar, India". There are "Edit Info" and "Edit Privacy" buttons. A text input field for a bio is present with the placeholder "Tell us about yourself". A progress bar indicates "15% Personal info" completed. Below this, there are fields for "Full name", "Bio", "Location", "Gender", and "Languages". A "Skip" button is available for the personal info section. At the bottom, tabs for "Overview", "Experience", "Education", "Portfolio", "Performance", and "Reward" are shown, with "Overview" being the active tab. Below the tabs are four empty circular icons with numbers "0" and symbols: a diamond, a code bracket, a checkmark, and a double slash. On the far right, a small preview window shows another part of the profile.
